Aries

As 2021 gets going, there is a new career beginning for you that will be linked to your friends, groups and associations.

You will start to notice how important it is to work towards your long term hopes and wishes, and to ensure that your long term life objectives are established and recognized.

As well as opportunities and expansion in your relationships with friends, there will also be well-defined lessons to learn, mostly around whether you can cultivate the ability to think of the group before yourself.

Your first proper test is June 2025, second peak test and true evaluation is April 2030.

Taurus

From the beginning of 2021 you will want to be seen by everybody in a more professional, responsible and serious way.

You would like people to look up to you and in order to achieve this you might want to take on some kind of a serious career or profession.

One of the other ways to gain much respect in the world is through parenthood, so it could be in the long run that you have children.

Your first proper test is June 2025, second peak test and true evaluation is April 2030.

Gemini

As 2021 gets going a long term career choice that you might take on is that of the teacher, or to become a person who has faith or belief in an area of interest that could be seen as a philosophy of life.

You could turn to a career that involves travelling as a professional direction, which may even include a move abroad.

Reaching up towards higher education could also have long term merits, so university or a particular academic specialism might be on the cards.

Your first proper test is June 2025, second peak test and true evaluation is April 2030.

Cancer

From 2021 you start to get more careers focused around money and investment; there's something to do with mortgages, bank loans, investments, stocks and shares, legacies, testaments.

Someone might leave you some inheritance which you can use to change your life around.

The complexities of a relationship will get more and more intense.

Your first proper test is June 2025, second peak test and true evaluation is April 2030.

Leo

From the beginning of 2021 you begin to face the seriousness of a relationship; this could be in the form of a business partnership or a confidante, someone who will mean a lot to you in your life.

If you are in a marriage already then new rules and regulations are drawn up which give you more ability to relate openly and freely.

Your first proper test is June 2025, second peak test and true evaluation is April 2030.

Virgo

From the beginning of 2021 you start to get more tuned in to your health and body, and how you apply yourself to day-to-day tasks.

You'll take on or start a particular job or service that gradually gains more and more importance, and you will want to be seen to make it as perfect as possible by being serious, and improving it in the best ways you know how.

Following a strict diet regimen makes sense, and also the people you work with, be they employers or employees, will help you to build a world that ultimately helps others.

Libra

From 2021 you will start to get more creative and self-expressive with your particular style of relating. You will enjoy working with drama and more dramatically.

Children could start to play a particularly important role in your life. You may procreate and have children.

You may also be tempted to gamble on certain ventures, which look exceptionally good (at first). Sports and games will start to take a more central role for you.

Scorpio

At the beginning of 2021 you will begin to focus intensely on family, home life and your roots and foundations.

There might be much work coming for your hometown or connected to your dwelling place.

Your deepest emotional needs literally need working on and require development.

Your parents may have something to do with your career and professional development.

A house or home could become an important project for you to develop and work on.

Sagittarius

From 2021 you will be entering a phase where communications take on a central role; you will be learning about how things work, and this will lead on to an important career or professional prospect.

Short distance travelling like commuting might become a feature, and also work projects that link you to your siblings or cousins.

Your local neighborhood might also take on increased importance.

Capricorn

From 2021 it's time to really get tuned into how you can make your money, and work hard to build on your wherewithal.

This will include some defined efforts to improve on your self-esteem and self-worth.

The buying and selling of things takes on central role in your life, and you start to look more seriously at your possessions, what you require and what is surplus to requirements, as in, can you be very digital?

Aquarius

From the beginning of 2021 you are going to have a whole new approach to life; you will still be the independent and freedom-loving individual, but now it becomes your work and your career too.

Can you be a science and technology visionary? If this idea fits, you've got several years in which to train up and establish yourself in a new field.

Alternately you might get very into the concept of communal living and communities.

A radical shift is what you've always wanted; now can you show others how to lead the way?

Pisces

As 2021 gets going, you will feel quite at home as the individual who is becoming at one with the collective.

This is a good time for you to work behind the scenes, in particular with the unconscious collective mind, as in, if you see a large social movement developing, then what is the emotion and feeling behind it, and furthermore what sort of a role can you play in it?

You could do well working for an institution that is in need of change and evolution; by being of service yet at the same time being the sort of person who 'understands' why changes happen when they do.
